

Messages of Hope

Our love and prayers are with you "ALL" at this crucial time of your lives. May your child be found and returned to you safe and sound. Keep on Believing!

This is hard to write as not being a parent but as an uncle I hate to see missing children. Hope they find their way home.

The Light of True Friendship shines brightest when all around is dark.

To all the parents and grandparents of missing children, never give up hope faith and prayers.

This missing boy is just a bit older than one of my youngest grandsons. If he disappeared, we would all be devastated. We share your pain. May God be with you and bring him safely home.

As a parent and a grandpa I know what you are going through. I hope my contributions to the Missing Children Society will help.

My prayers are always with the dear children that are missing. May God be with them and their loved ones, always. Please don't lose hope.

My thoughts and prayers are with those who having missing loved ones, I know personally how heartwrenching it is, my cousin's son has been missing since June of 2007. I want to thank the missing children society for all the good that they do. I pledged to light a candle on May 25th at 8:00 pm in hope of all the missing children to be returned safely.

We are Praying for your child's safe return. God Bless you.

We hope and pray your child will find their way home and your family will be whole again.

Please know that many, many people send prayers and loving thoughts to all of you for a very quick recovery of your loved-one.

I pray that your missing child will be with you again very soon. Do not lose hope.

I pray that you are reunited soon!

NEVER GIVE UP
